

ART•HEALS

breast health awareness project

FIRST FRIDAY art trail >>>

OCTOBER 1, 2010

6:30 - 9 p.m.

Graffiti Building

Louise Hopkins Underwood Center for the Arts • 502 Ave. J, Lubbock

Breast cancer continues to claim the lives of thousands of women across our county each year. Though we have made tremendous strides in the last 20 years, we still have much work to do to save more lives. Education, early detection and treatment hold the key to this success.

Join us in a exposition of creative works from artists, writers and musicians touched by cancer. We invite you to become a part of the healing power of the arts. See other side for entry information.

ART•HEALS

CREATIVE EXPO

breast health awareness project

sponsored by:

Texas Tech Physicians

invites you to participate in a creative expo focusing not only on breast health awareness, but also illustrating how the arts can help patients, families and friends recover from cancer and its aftermath. We feel the arts—writing, essays, poetry, painting, music, pottery, sculpture, jewelry – all facets – can create a healing path for those cancer touches. Eligibility is for anyone touched by cancer. The Art Heals Creative Expo will be a stop on the First Friday Art Trail in Lubbock on October 1, 2010.
